THE member of the

ment of Janitor Ahearn of the Polytechnic Institute is known. He gave himself away last evening. Becoming afraid that the disclosure made by Brady might get him into trouble notwithstanding that the School Director has not revealed his identity, the offer of the $1,000 bribe went to the Polytechnic Building last evening for the purpose of meeting Director Brady, after the adjournment of the Building Committee meeting.

"See here John, I don't like the way you've been talking."

"And why not?" asked Brady.

"Because," said the Delegate, "you are likely to get me into trouble."

"It's not me you would have to thank for that, then," said Brady; "you can fix the re-

"Now see here, John," said the Delegate, "you don't really think I meant to get you $1,000 as a bribe, do you?"

"And was it deceiving me you were?" inquired Brady with a look that carried consternation.

"No, not that—not deceiving you; I would not deceive you for the world," said the Delegate soothingly. "But—well, we knew you couldn't be bought by money, and though I said we had $1,000, that was merely a joke. It wasn't money we intended to give you."

"And what, then?" said Brady.

"Why, a fine new suit of clothes," said the Delegate.

"A suit of clothes, indeed!" said Brady.

"Yes," said the Delegate, "not noticing the School Director's sneer, 'oh, a fine one, too.' But I say now, John, you won't be talking to those newspaper men any more, will you because the devil knows what trouble you will get me into if you keep on, and all for something that I am as innocent of wrong in that as far back as 1878 he introduced in the board a resolution favoring free books. It was referred to a committee, of which he was chairman, and was reported back to the board favorably. When a vote was taken upon it it was defeated by a vote of 13 to 9. Mr. Samuel Cupples, who was in the board at the time, was, Mr. O'Connell says, one of the strongest advocates of the measure. In deference to the respectable minority the liberal men who were with the opposition concluded that some concession ought to be made. The Supply Department of the board was, therefore, inaugurated. Previous to that time the children had been compelled to buy their books in the stores around town and thus pay the retail dealer his profit. It was decided that the board should purchase all the text books used in the schools at wholesale and give them to the children at cost. Indigent pupils were to be furnished books free of charge. This was done, and for a long time quieted the talk about free books. It has been continued ever

THE PEDAGOGICAL SOCIETY.
The Pedagogical Society met this morning in the School Board room. Mr. Peter Hanson principal of the Blair School, was to have read a paper on "The Three Rs and Their Relation to the Several Branches of Instruction," but was unable to be present. He is suffering from la grippe. President Prentiss was also absent at the opening of the meeting and Prof. John Collins called the gathering, which was a large one, together. It was decided to discuss the general question. "The Needs of the School," Mrs. Roe E. Fanning, principal of the Pastalozzi, opened the discussion with a paper on the purpose of arithmetical instruction. She was followed by Prof. Vickray, who commented on the need of the school for an appreciative community. Prof. W. C. Dyer urged greater appreciation on the part of the teachers of his or her position. He also spoke at some length on the necessity of introducing the human element into the schools, or in other words establishing a bond of sympathy between the teachers and pupils. Prof. Collins gave as one of the needs of the school a more just estimate as to the amount of work which can reasonably be expected of a child. Teachers, he thought, also, should learn to sink their personality more. The teachers should not consider a child's misdoings as an offense against him or her, but as against the child itself. He believed that the complaint of a want of profes-

Recognition could not be obtained by resolution but by the worth of work. President Prentiss, who came in while the discussion was on, thought that the great drawback to the school was lack of professional enthusiasm. Professors Stevenson and Cook believed that the teachers ought not to quit teaching

WORLD'S FAIR WORKERS.

CHICAGO'S CHARGE AGAINST THE ST. LOUIS CONTINGENT AT WASHINGTON.

Bill for the Location of the Site Introduced by a Missouri Representative—Argument of Walker Blaine—Huntington's Argument Postponed—The Oklahoma Territory Project—Description of the Cruiser Baltimore—Washington News.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Hon. John J. O'Neill has been charged with pernicious activity by the opposition members of the House for St. Louis as the site for a World's fair. As an ex-member of Congress the rules extend to him the privileges of the floor and during the consideration of the fair business he has availed himself of his rights in the premises. The ex-Congressman yesterday was more active than usual in button-holing colleagues on the floor and effected two pairs in the interest of St. Louis. The enemies of the latter city then saw fit to present the matter to the Speaker. Read. They charged that Gov. Francis and Mr. O'Neill were too active on the floor and demanded that a stop be put to their methods. The Speaker said for Mr. O'Neill and frankly but kindly informed him of the complaint and urged the St. Louisian to be modest in his conduct. The ex-Congressman was sorry that he had given offense to his Chicago friends, but would try and so conduct himself on the floor hereafter as to cause no further grief or pain to the "windy citizens." Mr. O'Neill fully appreciates the compliment so ceremoniously conveyed to him from his Chicago friends.

The World's Fair delegates turned out this morning in anticipation of the Speaker naming the members who will comprise the Select Committee to consider the fair question. They have no doubt that Mr. Reed did his part to hasten the matter. Will compromise the committee none of them were able to say this morning. It will be a few days before any kind of a conclusion will be arrived at, as the same hearings and arguments that have been advanced before the Senate Committee are expected on the other side. The Chicago contingent is expected to be present at the hearing. At the end of another week something may be looked for. The New Yorkers and St. Louisians are as earnest as ever in the contest, while Chicago seems to have staggered under the decision of yesterday.

The attempt of the Illinois members to have John J. O'Neill and Gov. Francis excluded from the floor of the House has caused much gossip about the lobby.

Gen. John B. Clark is indisposed this morning, the result of overwork, and will not be able to get about before he has had a rest.

Gov. Fletcher has severed his formal connections with the Fair Committee.

RECOGNITION FOR MR. BAIN. Congressmen Kinney, Niedringhaus and Wade accompanied by Ex-Congressman Polard and Ex-Marshal Newcomb of St. Louis, called in a body upon the President this morning and asked recognition for Mr. Bain as an aspirant for consulship. The general honor and the lively dattening of the friends of the Blaine family, members of the diplomatic corps and people in official life attended the funeral. A private funeral ceremony was held at the home of Secretary Blaine, on Lafayette Square, at 10 a. m. The President and Mrs. Harrison, all the members of the Cabinet, Mr. W. H. Hallford, several members of the diplomatic corps and some intimate friends of the family attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. Dr. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant. At the conclusion of the private services the remains were taken to the Church of the Covenant, followed by the family and friends in carriages.

The regular services were held at the church, the Rev. Dr. Hamlin officiating and Prof. Walter Damrosch presiding at the organ. The attendance was very large, and many persons were unable to gain an entrance because of the great crowd. Prominent in the throng were the President and Mrs. Harrison, the Vice-President and Mrs. Morton, the entire Cabinet and their ladies, Justice of the Supreme Court, Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson, members of the diplomatic corps, delegates to the Pan-American Congress and the Marine Conference and Senators and Representatives.

The members of the Blaine household occupied seats directly in front of the pulpit on the right of the main aisle, and the seats opposite were occupied by the President and the Cabinet and the pall-bearers. The House of Representatives did not meet until 1 o'clock in order to allow the members to attend the funeral, and the Department of Justice with which the deceased was officially connected, was closed during the time of the funeral. While the Department of State was not formally closed, all the officers and employees who desired to attend the funeral were permitted to do so.

OKLAHOMA TERRITORY BILL. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Further arguments on the Oklahoma Territory bill were heard by the House Committee on Territories to-day. Judge Paine of this city, representing the interests of the Chickasaw and Choctaw Nations of Indians who began an argument the other day before the committee, finished to-day. His argument was followed by an address to the committee by Miss Alice M. Robinson, a missionary among the Indians in the Indian Territory and a teacher in the Presbyterian Indian school there. Her address consisted in an explanation of the condition of the Indians, and she made a strong plea for ample protection for the full-blooded Indians in any action that the committee may take on the subject.

Representative Rogers of Arkansas also spoke for a short time before the committee. He pointed out in various instances where the legal machinery provided in the bill was inadequate to meet the exigencies of the case and made sundry recommendations where they could be improved. He will conclude his argument next week.

They Favor St. Louis. By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Jan. 18.—A teacher in one of the primary schools of this city a few weeks ago asked the members of her class to state in writing their preferences as to the proper place for holding the World's Fair. The answers were amusing. Thirty-seven expressed themselves in favor of St. Louis, three for Chicago and one each for New York and Washington.

A young man, aged 17, having his residence at St. Louis, expressed his preference for St. Louis. He said: "Me and papa went to the Exposition last year. We were there so long that we had an uncle there, and another had been to St. Louis and said it was a big city and the people kind and jolly."

The New Cruiser Baltimore. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—The actual horse-power performance of the new cruiser Baltimore on her recent trial trip, was to-day made known by the promulgation from the Navy Department of the figures reported by the trial board. The report states that the cruiser Baltimore, which is to be named after the late President John Adams, is to be built at the Norfolk Navy Yard, and is to be armed with ten 10-inch guns and ten 6-inch guns. The trial board reported that the cruiser was able to make a speed of 18 knots per hour, and that she was able to maintain a speed of 16 knots per hour for a distance of 100 miles.

The St. Joseph Post-Office. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Editor Shepherd of St. Joseph is here. He is making a lively tussle for the Postmastership at that place. There are several candidates in the field, and at one time the department had concluded to give the place to Capt. Ernst. It is stated that Capt. Ernst has all of the prominent politicians of his back for the office, but the request of Editor Shepherd and Judge C. S. Hall, who is also a candidate, has been held up to a further hearing.

Huntington's Argument Postponed. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—A special meeting of the Senate Committee on Pacific Railroads was held this morning to listen to an argument by C. P. Huntington on the Pacific Railroad bill. The members of the committee were anxious to attend the funeral of Mr. Walker Blaine and so the hearing was postponed to some day next week, probably Friday.

FIFTY-FIVE THOUSAND. The House. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—The House met at 10 o'clock to-day. A member from Missouri introduced a bill (localizing the World's Fair at St. Louis and creating a corporation to carry on the same. Referred to the Special Committee. On motion of Mr. Mason of Illinois, a resolution was adopted permitting the Special Committee investigating the ballot-box forgery to sit during the sessions of the House.

The Ex-Governor of Ohio Gives His Version of the Case—How the "Letter of Vindication" Was Obtained From Wood—A Certificate of Character That Did Not Amount to Much—Statement of the Witness in Detail.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Ex-Gov. Foraker resumed his statement before the House Committee in the ballot-box forgery case to-day, beginning by reading a letter from Mayor Mosby, telling the technical questions necessary for a smoke inspector, and dated August 14. "Witness then said that he did not see Wood after receiving the Walters letter until October 8, when he appeared at Columbus, and asked for money to go to Washington to look up the battery deal.

Witness gave him $300 through Prior for the purpose. Wood said the publications had gotten the "gang" down on him, speaking of Murray in a discreditable way and saying that he had been trying to get him to sign a paper was a forgery. He also said that he was in fear of personal violence. Witness asked Foraker if he had seen Wood at the time he was in Washington, and he said he had not.

Representative Grosvenor interrupted with a question, apologizing for doing so. The witness said that he was pleased to be interrupted by a gentleman. "Well, I see the papers seem to think I was trying to annoy you yesterday. I never thought of such a thing. FORAKER ON THE STAND.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON THE BALLOT-BOX FORGERY.

The Ex-Governor of Ohio Gives His Version of the Case—How the "Letter of Vindication" Was Obtained From Wood—A Certificate of Character That Did Not Amount to Much—Statement of the Witness in Detail.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Ex-Gov. Foraker resumed his statement before the House Committee in the ballot-box forgery case to-day, beginning by reading a letter from Mayor Mosby, telling the technical questions necessary for a smoke inspector, and dated August 14. "Witness then said that he did not see Wood after receiving the Walters letter until October 8, when he appeared at Columbus, and asked for money to go to Washington to look up the battery deal.

Witness gave him $300 through Prior for the purpose. Wood said the publications had gotten the "gang" down on him, speaking of Murray in a discreditable way and saying that he had been trying to get him to sign a paper was a forgery. He also said that he was in fear of personal violence. Witness asked Foraker if he had seen Wood at the time he was in Washington, and he said he had not.

Representative Grosvenor interrupted with a question, apologizing for doing so. The witness said that he was pleased to be interrupted by a gentleman. "Well, I see the papers seem to think I was trying to annoy you yesterday. I never thought of such a thing. Continuing, the witness read a letter from the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. estimating the cost of the ballot-box forgery. The witness said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

Then the witness read another letter from T. G. Campbell to Wood, commenting upon Wood's speech at Columbus, and saying that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

A reporter at this point asked Representative Grosvenor if he had seen Wood at the time he was in Washington, and he said he had not. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

Here the witness read the letter from Mr. Foraker to Mr. Wood, in which he suggested that he give an account to the world of the name of the forger or forgers to the aid and that vigorous prosecution be begun of the alleged forgery. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

While in Washington Wood wrote witness several letters, but when witness learned he was a forger he stopped having any communication with him, and he wrote Wood that they would have nothing to do with him and would not answer his letters. On October 18 witness became ill and had to retire from the chamber for two days. He went to his home and had no correspondence with anybody. On the day after the publication of the Walters letter, Wood, Megraw replied that he (Wood) seemed greatly distressed about intimations in the published story that he was a forger, and that he was a forger. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

Witness replied that that was Wood's business. The cross-examination turned to the first production of the paper in witness' library. Wood said that he had seen a signature which was clearly genuine and that he had seen a signature which was clearly genuine. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

Wood said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

Wood said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.

Wood said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co. He said that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co., and that he was not a member of the Cincinnati Sewer & Tap Co.
